

The two tables below list the top 10 objectors based on the number of goods seized and number of seizures by the Australian Customs and Border Protection Service (Customs and Border Protection). These goods were seized due to suspected infringements of the objectors' trademark or copyright, during the period of 1 July 2011 and 30 June 2012.

Due to the process for data collection of IPR seizures, two tables have been provided to fulfil the request. The tables list the following categories:

1. Textiles and Accessories (includes textiles, footwear, glasses and leather goods)
2. Jewellery and Watches

Customs and Border Protection's records are not categorised by brand, but by the objector. In order to protect their brand/s at the border, an objector must lodge a Notice of Objection with Customs and Border Protection. The Notice of Objection Scheme gives Customs and Border Protection the power to seize goods suspected of infringing a trade mark or copyright, on behalf of the objector. This allows the objector the opportunity to take action against the importer, through court proceedings.
