

Australian Customs Cargo Advice

Number 2010/14

Preview available of improved Cargo Support Website

In response to feedback from Industry and internal stakeholders, Customs and Border Protection has developed an improved Cargo Support website.

Changes you will notice include:

- ✓ refined menu/navigation structure
- ✓ use of more of the screen
- ✓ clearer font
- ✓ permanent on screen search function with filtering
- ✓ list of cargo related terms and acronyms
- ✓ content has been updated and simplified
- ✓ new draft content for the Business Continuity Plan (BCP)

The new improved website will run in conjunction with the current website and will replace the current site in early 2011.

Follow this link <http://www.cargosupport.gov.au/pages/default.asp> for a preview of the new site. The existing Cargo Support site also contains a link to the improved site.

Your feedback on the new website, particularly on the draft material for the Business Continuity Plan (BCP) and the 'Integrated Cargo System' pages, would be valuable.

To provide feedback, suggestions or for further information please email Industry Engagement at industryengagement@customs.gov.au

Australian Customs Service
Cargo Business Improvement and Support
CANBERRA

15 December 2010